

DNDs DataMaster

End User License Agreement

Introduction

This End User License Agreement (EULA) will provide the terms of service for anyone using the DataMaster software.

Licensing of Use

This license gives the end user the right to use the DataMaster product. It can be used for personal or organizational use. This product is open source and free to any type of user. However, this license does not provide the right to redistribute this software for any kind of value.

Confidentiality

Please refer to the Privacy Policy to review the confidentiality that DataMaster guarantees.

Limited Software Warranty

DataMaster will provide full technical support for one year after agreeing to the terms of service. Please see contact information below for a list of emails of the owners of this software.

Termination

Any violation of DataMaster's EULA will result in a full termination of service.

Contact Information

DND Team - dndcalpoly@gmail.com